

Assistant/Associate Professor Position in Transportation Engineering and Systems at University of Cincinnati

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.uc.edu/> and search REQ# 38298

The Department of Civil and Architectural Engineering and Construction Management (CAECM) of the College of Engineering and Applied Science (CEAS) at the University of Cincinnati (UC) invites applications for full-time tenure track faculty to fill multiple positions in support of the curriculum and research efforts of the Civil Engineering Program in the area of Transportation Engineering. Applicants at all levels of professorship will be considered. Rank and tenure will be determined based on the candidate's credentials.

Successful applicants will be expected to: develop, and deliver fundamental and innovative courses at the graduate and undergraduate levels in transportation engineering related topics such as intermodal transportation operation and management, sustainable freight logistics, design of resilient transportation network and safety; conduct funded research in the aforementioned areas; engage in scholarly activities in terms of securing research funds and establishing/maintaining a good publication record; and, participate in academic service activities such as on the curriculum committee and faculty development service, supporting the mission of CAECM, CEAS, and UC.

Prior to effective date of the appointment, candidates must have a PhD in Civil Engineering or a closely related field.

Appointees will be evaluated for reappointment, promotion, and tenure based on criteria established by CAECM and CEAS. Salary will be commensurate with credentials. Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.uc.edu/> and search REQ# 38298 and are required to electronically submit a cover page, a curriculum vitae, names and contact information of at least three references, a statement of teaching philosophy, and a statement of research vision.
